Final -Ed Sound

Rules to Remember

We pronounce the final -ed in three ways. Listen to the words from the Ted Talk "Do schools kill creativity?" Do you hear a /d/, /t/, or /əd/? (Audio on the lesson web page: "Rules to Remember - ed endings")

Circle the sound you hear:

1. needed, started, graduated /d/ /t/ /əd/
2. talked, watched, helped /d/ /t/ /əd/
3. explained, bothered, turned /d/ /t/ /əd

Rules: -Ed Endings

1. If the word ends in /t/ or /d/ (need, start), add the syllable /əd/ or /ɪd/.
2. If the word ends in an unvoiced sound (talk, watch), add a /t/ sound.
3. If the word ends in a voiced sound (bother, explain), add a /d/ sound.

Review: Voiced and Unvoiced

If you're not sure which word endings are voiced or unvoiced, put your hand on your throat.

- You will feel a vibration on your throat and your hand if words end in voiced consonants.
- You will NOT feel a vibration on your throat and your hand if words end in unvoiced consonants.

Examples: -Ed Endings

Types of -Ed Endings	Examples
Use /t/ after unvoiced final sounds /f/, /k/, /p/,/s/, /ʧ/(ch), /ʃ/(sh), /θ/(th)	Words that end with a /t/ sound:	look - looked	push - pushed	ask - asked	watch - watched	help - helped	dress - dressed
Use /d/ after voiced final sounds /b/, /g/, /ʤ/(j), /l/, /m/, /n/, /ŋ/, /r/, /ð/(th), /v/, /z/, + vowels	Words that end with a /d/ sound:	sob - sobbed	roam - roamed	believe - believed	judge - judged	fill - filled	enjoy - enjoyed
Use /əd/ or /ɪd/ after final /d/ and /t/ . Remember that /əd/ adds an extra syllable	Words that end with an /əd/ sound:	need - needed	wait – waited

Practice -Ed Endings

Listen and repeat the words in the table. (Audio on the lesson web page: "Practice -Ed endings")

/t/	/d/	/əd/ or /ɪd/
talked	watched	helped	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____

Change the following words to past tense (add ed), and then add them to the table in the correct column above.

Change the words to past tense and then add them to the table above.

Rules to Remember

Rules to Remember: Linking -Ed Endings

- When the word after -ed begins with a vowel, the past tense ending is clear.
  - Example: I lived in Thailand. (sounds like live-din)
- When the word after -ed begins with /d/ or /t/, the past tense ending is difficult to hear.
  - Example: Tommy looked tired. (sounds like (look-tired)

Recording: Linking -ed Endings to Vowels and Consonants

Read each of the sentences. Focus on linking the -ed ending to the following word.

1. Gillian’s mother talked to the doctor.
2. She explained that Gillian was having problems in school.
3. Gillian bothered other students.
4. She turned in her homework late.
5. The doctor turned on the radio.
6. She started to dance.

Talk about a Timeline

Brittany's Timeline

1. Look at Brittany’s timeline and listen to her talk about important events in her life.
2. Use Brittany’s timeline. Practice telling your partner about her life. Use the correct -ed endings.

Example: She graduated form university in 2006. Then she worked on a farm from 2006 to 2007. . . .

(Picture: a timeline of important events in Brittany's life)

Caption: Above is an image of a timeline that describes important events in Brittany's life. The following information is included:

Important Events	graduated from university	worked on a farm	got hired to teach English in Thailand and learned some Thai	applied for and got accepted to an MEd in TESOL course and moved to England	started working in Bogota, Colombia and learned some Spanish
Year	2006	2006-2007	2008-2009	2010-2011	2014-2016

Your Timeline

1. Draw your own timeline like the ones above.
2. Make a video of yourself describing the timeline of important events in your life. Then post your video in your class's online forum.
3. Watch your classmate's videos. Write a comment or questions to at least 2 classmates.
